

SUBJECT: “Customer Use” Website Password | R-1

Alliant Power has developed a new “Customer Use” password for our website. This password will give access to all technical bulletins, diagnostic guides & videos, and new product announcements. It will NOT allow access to the warranty website or price files. This feature is designed to allow you to give your customers access to technical information on the Alliant Power website.

To “Login” using the new password

- Go to alliantpower.com
- Click on “Login”

- Enter the following username and password, and click the “Login” box
